Announcement to Vendors / Exhibitors

The Freethought Day 2009 Committee invites you to join in this afternoon event on Sunday, October 11 in Waterfront Park, Old Sac. Sacramento's Freethought Day (proclaimed for the past five years by Sacramento's mayor) offers an opportunity for community organizations and local businesses to present their information and/or wares to the public.

Exposition space is available

Freethought Day is not a large event, but it draws individuals who support the concepts in the mission statement (bottom of page) as well as members of the public who are drawn by publicity or who drop in while visiting Old Town. The exhibits are open to the public from noon to 5 PM. An on-stage program and entertainment will be provided throughout.

A booth space (10 ft. by 10 ft.) will be provided, along with a chair and a 6 ft. by 2 1/2 ft. table and a table covering w/ skirt. (To ensure availability, reserve the table and any extra chair in advance.)

Access for setup starts at 11:00 AM on October 11, and displays should be ready for viewing by noon.

Mission Statement — Freethought Day is a community event to celebrate freethought, liberty of conscience, naturalistic ethics, secular government, and civic values.

Education Goals

- ◆ Promote accurate understanding of the heritage of liberty of conscience
- ◆ Raise public consciousness regarding secular governance (legal neutrality)
- ◆ Educate the public regarding the contributions of freethought and freethinkers in advancing human rights, and establishing and preserving a religion/government separation in the U.S.A.

Community Goals

- ◆ Foster participation of organizations with mutual understanding and support of the mission
- ◆ Present a positive image to the public
- ◆ Provide enjoyment for those in attendance
- ◆ Publicize freethought organizations
